RED FANATICS FIGHT WAY TO TOP OF HILL

Friends Do Work for Invalid Farmer

FORTY-ONE FARMERS GATHER FOR NOON DINNER after picking a 38-acre field of corn and then ordering ground and sowing it to wheat for Everett Baird, who is unable to get his fall work done because of his health. (Record-Herald photo)

Another good deed was carried out in Fayette County Thursday when 41 Good Hope Grange members, friends and neighbors got together with their tractors, corn pickers, discs, drills and wagons and met on the Everett Baird farm on the Good Hope Road. They picked 38 acres of corn first and then, the ambitious helpers plowed same field, disked it and sowed it with wheat.

Baird, who has not been able to do any work since Sept. 15 was worried about how he was going to get his corn picked and his wheat sowed.

Lee Reisinger, knowing of Baird's ill health, talked it over with other neighbors and friends to see if they couldn't leave their own work for a half a day and help Baird get his corn picked.

At 7:30 A. M. Thursday, they gathered on the Baird farm and started right to work. By 10:30 A. M. the 38-acre field of corn had been picked and by 12:30 P. M. the same day the field had been plowed and sowed in wheat.

REISINGER WHO WAS the moving spirit of the affair, was injured about 8 A. M. when his hand and arm got caught in a corn picker. He was rushed to Memorial Hospital. Friday morning his condition was reported as good and that his hand which was badly mangled, could be saved.

Bob Riley and the Standard Oil Co. furnished all of the fuel which was used doing the work. Baird had already purchased the wheat and fertilizer which was used.

Baird said getting this done made him feel a lot better and that he didn't know how to thank all of the men.

Mrs. Baird and their three sons, Wayne, Willard and Harlan, had been taking care of the farm.

In keeping up with the men, the wives of the many workers prepared a big dinner at noon. There was fried chicken, noodles, potatoes, salads, pie, cake and many other delicious foods.

THOSE WHO HELPED pick the corn were Bob Riley, Bill Dunn, Wilbur Hoppes, Glen Herman, Herb Hoppes, Orville Weidinger, Chester Knisley, Wayne Forsythe, Frank Holdren, Ralph Yerian, Joe Henry,

Bill Riley, Siegel Mossbarger, Mark King, John Roland, Tom Braden, Charles Morgan, Eldon Miller, David Overly, Kenneth DeWitt, Dean Echard, Earl Smith, Bob Scott, Orville Smalley, Dane Mossbarger, Clark Ingram, Clarence Woods, Lowell Woods, Elmer Clark, E. K. Overly, Lawrence C. Johnson, Arnold Robson, Scott Cardiff, Loren

B. Johnson, Ernest Mowbray, R. B. McCoy, Jr., Eddie Braden and Lee Reisinger.

Baird said the men kept coming and going all morning and that he hoped that he didn't leave anybody's name out.

The men showed up with 26 wagons, 9 pickers, 8 tractors pulling discs and 7 drills.

California Going GOP, Lieutenants Say

New Social Welfare Deal Is Promised By Eisenhower

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—The Eisenhower command is inclined to count California's 32 electoral votes in the Republican column after a tumultuous sweep through the state which went Democratic by a narrow margin four years ago.

With 11 states behind him in his current 28-state tour, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower moved eastward Friday. The day's schedule called for appearances in Phoenix and Tucson, Ariz., Albuquerque, N. M., and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Los Angeles gave the GOP candidate a roaring reception to match the uproarious San Francisco welcome, and Thursday night 9,000 people jammed into the Pan Pacific Auditorium to hear him.

An estimated 20,000 stood outside to hear his speech over a public address system.

He promised—if elected—that the Republicans would promote a program of social welfare which would bring increased security beyond anything yet achieved under Democratic administrations.

WHILE HE attacked "government medicine," he said adequate medical care must be "made accessible and brought within the means of all our people."

He said: "Our doctors will be among the first to admit that at present too many of our people live too far from adequate medical aid; that too many of our people find the cost of adequate medical care too heavy."

Eisenhower then said neither the existing private health insurance plans nor "the administration's proposal for national socialized medicine covers all the people. Neither provides adequate protection."

He proposed the use of federal loans "or other aid to local health plans" should be explored.

Eisenhower insisted it was time to take a new look at the Social Security law, to extend it, and to make it fair to all. "That is what our new administration plans to do," he said.

Eisenhower asserted the United States must develop a security program and position of strength which "will persuade the Kremlin that further military aggression anywhere is senseless."

Touching on the civil rights question, Eisenhower told his audience: "There can be no second class Americans except as a result of second-rate Americanism."

HE ARGUED there must be equality of opportunity — and he said he was "for wiping out every inequality of opportunity."

"And I am for starting to do that right in our nation's capital as well as in every other operation, military and civil, of our federal government."

He said the Democratic administration had failed in the past 20 years to end segregation in the nation's capital.

Eisenhower departed from his prepared script to take a lick at President Truman, whom he called a "ghost spokesman" for his Democratic opponent, Adlai Stevenson. He quipped:

"I have no ghostly spokesman, but when I have something to say to the American people I will say it myself."

Then he said he didn't have time to "take notes of the innumerable irresponsible things that a frightened administration and opposition are trying to say."

And he added: "I know that we have been called a party of special privilege but I tell you, my friends, that of all the special privileges that are dangerous in this country, the most dangerous is the special privilege of big government."

Parents Get Word Of Injured Airman

Joseph Leroy Stultz, electronics technician in the navy, is now in the naval hospital at Chelsea, Mass., recovering from "serious injuries" received when a navy patrol plane crashed in Newfoundland last Monday.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stultz of Bloomingburg, received a telegram from Vice Admiral L. T. Duboise from Cleveland, Friday a morning saying:

"Supplementing telegram of Oct. 8, another report just received states your son suffered compound fracture of lower part of mandible (lower jaw) and simple fracture of the synchysis of mandible. He has been evacuated to naval hospital at Chelsea, Mass., for further treatment."

Stultz was one of the crew of 12 on the patrol plane and one of six who survived the crash near the navy base at Argentia, Newfoundland, where he had been stationed. The other six of the crew were killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Stultz said they hoped to go to Chelsea to see their son if they can make arrangements to get away. Mrs. Stultz said they would drive. "I would never get in a plane," she said.

Adlai Sees Chance Soviet May Soften

Dem Candidate Says American-Sponsored Policy 'Works Well'

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 10.—Adlai E. Stevenson turned his campaign southward Thursday with the statement that Russia may abandon its aggressive policies because American-sponsored collective security has "worked so well."

But the Democratic presidential nominee cautioned in an address prepared for a City Auditorium rally here that the United States must be on guard against trickery in any Soviet attempt to substitute honey for vinegar.

And he declared that even the chance he now sees for long-run gains toward peace "might all be sadly altered if the Republicans win in November and proceed to do what they say they will do."

Heading for New Orleans and an appeal Thursday night to Southerners openly rebellious against the Democratic ticket, Stevenson fired heavy artillery here against Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on what the Illinois governor called the principal issues of the presidential campaign, peace and prosperity.

HE SAID IF there is any weakening of American defense and foreign assistance programs the Kremlin can change its signals quickly.

"We all know in our bones that it is dangerous to talk tough unless we are ready to act tough," he declared. "The new Republican policy, and I am sorry to say this, is to talk tough while we simultaneously weaken our defenses and alliances. That doesn't make sense to me. That is a sure road to disaster."

Stevenson has contended that Eisenhower's call for a $20 billion budget cut would mean a slash in defense funds.

Accusing the Republicans of trying to scrap the bipartisan foreign policy, he sailed into Eisenhower on this point.

"What the campaign has clearly brought out is that the Old Guard of the Republican Party wants to scrap that bipartisan foreign policy—and that their candidate with the new look, the General of the Army, has either forsaken his own great past or become the policy partner of Sen. Taft and some gentlemen of similarly eccentric views about our world."

"Senator Taft and the Old Guard, of course, have fought our bipartisan foreign policy right along."

"THEY HAVE SAID that it costs too much, forgetting that however expensive peace may be, it will cost as nothing compared to a new world war."

"The general says our prosperity is a sham prosperity, that it is based on war and that it is going to collapse as soon as defense orders taper off."

"On this subject, the general has agreed to agree with Sen. Taft. On domestic economic issues the general has, in effect, admitted that he does not know very much."

"If he did, I don't think he would have chosen Sen. Taft as the man who will determine his domestic economic policies."

Wilmington GI Returning Home

SEATTLE, Oct. 10.—The Navy transport Gen. Hugh J. Gaffey is to arrive here Saturday with 1,360 passengers from the Far East. Most of those aboard are Army rotation troops from Korea. Those from Ohio include Pfc. Sheldon I. Waits of 162 Credon Avenue, Wilmington.

Record Vote Seen

COLUMBUS, Oct. 10.—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Thursday a record number of 3,900,000 votes may be cast in the Nov. 4 election in Ohio.

Lewis Said Planning Strike Of Miners For Next Week

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—John L. Lewis is reliably reported to be considering a nationwide coal strike unless the government Wage Stabilization Board approves the union's recently negotiated pay boost by next Wednesday.

Lewis sent his chief legal lieutenant, Welly Hopkins, flying from the United Mine Workers Union convention here to confer Friday with WSB in Washington. The problem, it was understood, may complicate the current political situation.

Lewis, who seemed to be on the verge of endorsing Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson after apparently favoring Republican nominees in the last three national elections, was holding up any flat endorsement until he sees how the Democratic administration handles his wage case.

The miners union president has just negotiated one of his fastest labor contracts in history—a pay boost of $1.90 a day, boosting the basic daily wage to $18.25.

IN ADDITION, he got a 10-cent increase in the tonnage royalty paid by coal mine owners to the union's welfare fund. The increase brings the royalty to 40 cents a ton, or better than $150 million a year.

Coal operators have taken the position they can't pay the new contract terms until the WSB approves. It has generally been felt among people close to the situation that the board probably will give its approval, but perhaps later than the Oct. 15 pay day when first checks bearing the new pay rates become due.

Hopkins, senior counsel for the union, was reported to be due to tell the WSB, in a private conference in Washington Friday, that approval by Oct. 15, next Wednesday, must come or a coal strike will follow.

Although Lewis has seemingly leaned heavily toward Stevenson, the union boss has not made any endorsement. He has been highly critical of Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) and anybody "whom Taft may lead around by the collar." This presumably means Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, Republican candidate for President.

Sesqui Plans Discussed by Legion Here

Plans for taking part in next year's Sesquicentennial were outlined at Thursday night's regular meeting of the Paul H. Hughey post of the American Legion.

A big Fourth of July celebration at the new public park was discussed, but no decisions were made. If it is held, it will be in charge of the Legion. Agreement was reached, however, that the Legion would handle four dances during June. One would be a formal, perhaps at the Country Club; one a 50-50 dance at the Armory; a teen-age party and another for the colored residents at Memorial Hall. Details for the dances remain to be worked out.

Sesqui plans were brought up by Ralph Penn, the county chairman. Walter Hutton, the finance officer of the post and a past commander, presided at the meeting in the absence of Commander William M. Stoughton.

Spelling's Bad But Lad, 7, Can Fly Plane

CLEVELAND, Oct. 10.—His mother says he can't spell too well, but what's that to a 7-year-old boy who can fly an airplane?

Paul Mueller, Jr. is the idol of his third grade classmates in nearby Berea's Fairwood school. He can fly like a veteran, according to his day, who taught him how.

His little brother, Johnny, 6, is learning to fly, too, but so far he's had just three lessons.

Paul started flying 14 months ago in the family Aerona Champion. He can't go up alone because that's against regulations. But with a licensed pilot along all is well with the law. He can't get a student's license for another nine years—when he is 16.

Paul's dad is part owner of a truck equipment firm and a part-time flying instructor.

Fresh Troops Mass Nearby To Aid Reds

White Horse Mountain Needed By Communists To Help 'Save Face'

SEOUL, Oct. 10.—Chinese Reds battered their way to the top of White Horse Mountain Friday night and massed 16,000 fresh troops within easy striking distance of the blood-soaked hill.

Allied intelligence officers said the Communists could commit two fresh divisions to battle at any time.

The fanatical Chinese, seeking to save face, stormed up the slopes with screams and curses and pushed valiant Republic of Korea (Rok) defenders off the ridge line.

Bone-weary United Nations troops scrambled right back to the top and battled the Reds hand to hand in a drenching rain for half an hour before surrendering the crest again.

The wild fighting broke off at 9 p. m. with the Chinese in control. The South Koreans hugged the south slope 150 yards from the top.

EARLIER REPORTS said a "hilltop brawl" swirled around the peak in almost pitch darkness. Reds and South Koreans fought it out with grenades, rifle butts and bared bayonets.

The Red attack a few hours earlier had come as no surprise.

After the battered Reds were driven off White Horse shortly after noon, Allied observers spotted 1,500 to 2,200 Chinese reforming north of the hill.

"They're not finished by a long shot," an Allied officer said.

Allied big guns plastered the area with air bursting shells.

The Chinese grip on the hill was broken in a vicious 10-minute bayonet fight atop the crest earlier Friday afternoon.

It was the third time Friday the Roks had taken the key hill which guards the Chorwon gateway to South Korea. Twice they were thrown back—only to fight back to the top.

Sharp and bitter battles flared elsewhere along the 155-mile battlefield. But there was nothing to compare with the carnage on White Horse.

The battle-weary Rok troops wrote their "stay! fight!" motto in blood on the shell-pocked peak.

BY FRONTLINE estimate, the Chinese have already lost 8,000 casualties in trying to save face on the strategic height.

The fighting had raged for 90 hours with hardly a break.

Reckless Chinese assaults through blistering Allied artillery fire cost the Reds a staggering number of dead. Not since Heartbreak Ridge a year ago has a hill cost so much blood.

The Eighth Army reported Red casualties for the first week of October were 4,786 killed, 2,692 wounded and 50 prisoners—a total of 7,528, the heaviest since last November.

The figure does not include the havoc spread by Allied warplanes and artillery. Nor does it include the heavy Red casualties of the last three days.

UN fighter-bombers roared in behind the lines Friday and pounded Red troop concentrations. Fifteen Superforts blasted four Communist supply centers in North Korea Thursday night, three of them in the vicinity of the Korean Red capital, Pyongyang.

Polio Outbreak Said On Decline

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The record outbreak of infantile paralysis is apparently on the wane, Public Health Service figures indicate. The 42,372 cases reported up to Oct. 4 topped the 12 months total for the previous record year.

With two and a half months still to go in this year, there have been 339 more cases than the 1949 year's total of 42,033, which the health service lists as the previous record year.

Cafes Planning Big Promotion

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 10.—The Nation's cafe owners are planning a $10 million campaign to induce you to come in and buy a meal. J. Fred Vollmer, Philadelphia, president of the National Restaurant Association, told Pacific Coast cafemen in convention here the $10 million would be used for advertising to increase patronage.

Meanderings

By Wash. Fayette

I stepped out of Haver's Drug Store and met Walter Patton who had just come across the street from his store.

"What do you know?" asked Pat. "I was just trying to think of something for the Meandering Column," I told him.

"Wish I could help you, but right now, I don't think of a thing," he replied.

As I came on to this office I recalled something interesting in which Pat had figured.

When Pat first came to Washington C. H., it was as secretary of the YMCA here, and that reminds me that about that time the YMCA was the largest in any city the size of Washington C. H. in the United States.

As I recall the membership was over 800, and the activities of the "Y" were many and far reaching.

It was the center of many meetings. It held a prominent place in the community, both socially and in the business field. It was the athletic center of the community also.

From the gymnasium it sent a youth by the name of Taylor who won the standing high jump championship of the nation.

A large number of residents here and elsewhere obtained assistance in the way of physical culture and teachings of the better things of life that helped them in many ways and will continue to help.

And about Pat! I recall that a district YMCA meeting was held here while he was secretary. Grace Church was filled for the meeting.

I vividly recall that during the meeting, in which a very lively spirit prevailed, the visiting groups joined in showing their appreciation to the entertaining secretary, by singing lustily.

"Patton will shine tonight, Patton will shine!"

Thanks, Pat, for this meandering thought.

Second British A-Bomb Test Seen Coming

LONDON, Oct. 10.—(P)—Britons speculated Friday that their second atomic explosion may be set off in Australia within the next two months. The wave of conjecture followed an announcement that Britain's three top atom men would fly to Australia in early November.

The three are W. G. Penney, scientific director of Britain's first atomic explosion Oct. 2 in the desolate Monte Bello Islands off Western Australia; Sir John Cockcroft, boss of Britain's Harwell atomic energy plant; and Gen. Sir Frederick Morgan, the nation's atomic energy controller.

Penney left Australia by air Friday to report to Prime Minister Winston Churchill and the British cabinet on the effects of the Oct. 2 explosion. He was flying in a special Royal Air Force plane.

The announcement said that Penney would return to Australia Nov. 5. He is scheduled to be followed by Cockcroft on Nov. 10 and Morgan on the next day.

A spokesman for the Ministry of Supply, which supervises the nation's atomic program, said "no comment" when asked if Penney's return to Australia meant another atomic test in the offing.

Gangway, Here Comes New Model Grandma

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(P)—The modern-day grandmother may be piloting her own plane or doing the smoothest rumba on the floor. She may be a corporation president or a candidate for public office.

She's thrown away her traditional props, the rocking chair and knitting, and is enjoying life.

With Grandmothers' Day coming Sunday, various people are busy making lists of the 10 most glamorous, most successful, most influential, most athletic, most astonishing and most daring grandmas.

What with vitamins and diets, cosmetics and massage, grandma often outshines granddaughter. She probably can beat her at golf or

Grandma is enjoying a golden era. The best brains of science have come up with new ways of prolonging youth and beauty; society has provided new outlets for her energies in politics and business; she has lived long enough to learn that life can be fun at any age, but more fun after the uncertainties and struggles of early youth are past.

She controls a large part of the nation's wealth, and knows how to manage it and also how to spend it. She lifts her voice in stockholders' meetings, and makes her presence felt in political circles.

Two famous grandmas on every list are two charmers, Gloria Swanson and Marlene Dietrich.

La Swanson is so busy making TV films and running a wholesale dress business she has no time to court birthdays, but her well-publicized allure carries a higher voltage than ever, and her figure still is well within the dimensions of the bathing beauty.

La Dietrich can be mistaken for her daughter at 10 paces, and her famous legs cause as much excitement as ever. Recently a famous dress designer called her the most imitated woman — the one most women would like to look like, the one who wears clothes best and sets the mode for others.

9 Episcopal Women Here Go to Meeting

Nine members of Saint Christina's Guild of Saint Andrew's Church motored to Saint Luke's Church, Granville, to a regional meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Southern Ohio.

The all-day program began with a Celebration of the Holy Communion and an address by the Rt. Rev. William Jones Gordon, missionary bishop of Alaska.

Bishop Gordon's address dealt with the need of the church in Alaska as well as for the newly arriving Americans as for the native Indian and Eskimo population.

The bishop told stories about the many Americans who have gone to Alaska to make new homes in that virgin wilderness and said they have come to him many times to thank him for the work and the presence of the church. The bishop pointed out that the frontier conditions in Alaska cause many new settlers to forget their old ways and traditions and they find much inspiration to resume their old American habits when they discover the church is there with its traditional services and relationships.

"They need the church to hold on to during the period of transition and for this reason the church is trying very hard to keep up with the influx of population," he declared.

The bishop mentioned his experiences in the "frozen north" where the 60 degrees below zero temperatures often keep him from using his plane which the Women's Auxiliary of the Church presented to him. The plane allows the bishop to make calls on the outlying missions in a matter of hours where the trip involved months using dog-sled and foot travel.

Saint Andrew's women who attended the conference were: Mrs. C. G. Hayes, Mrs. Richard Willis, Mrs. Harford Hankins, Mrs. Ellis Bolton, Miss Ann Story, Mrs. Eugene Bach, Mrs. Judith Robinson, Mrs. Briggs Gambler and Mrs. Gifford Glascoe, who now lives in Columbus.

Bishop Gordon was introduced by Mrs. Ted Preston, president of the Granville Auxiliary. Mrs. Preston, the former Miss Florence Mable Sparks, is a native of Washington C. H., where she went through school.

Sec'y Brown Wants Law Change To Aid Service Wives Vote

Secretary of State Ted Brown has announced he will make recommendations to the Ohio Legislature, when it meets next January, which will make it easier for wives of members of the armed services personnel, who accompany their husbands outside the state, to vote.

Mr. Brown pointed out that while Ohio laws make it comparatively easy for men and women in the armed services to vote, wives of service men who accompany their husbands to military locations, are not so lucky.

"Ohio is one of the 18 states that recently received a 'pat on the back' on its armed forces voting laws at the election officials' clinic in Cleveland and Cincinnati from Col. Tom B. Blocker, who is in charge of voting information for the armed services," Mr. Brown said, "but there should be some changes that would make it easier to vote for wives of service men who should not be penalized for their loyalty in following their husbands to far away military duty."

Sever-Williams Co. Has Contract Set

The Sever-Williams Construction Co. of Washington C. H., has been awarded the tentative contract for the general construction and electrical work on the addition to Berger Hospital in Circleville, on the low bid of $276,300.

Addition of the new wing to the hospital is to provide 18 additional beds to the 23 now in use.

The Sever-Williams Co. built Memorial Hospital here and is now building the addition to it.

Solons Schedule New Tax Probe
LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 10 — (AP) — Rep. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb.) said Thursday that members of the tax-investigating King committee will go to Washington after the Nov. 4 election to probe the Treasury Department's alcohol tax unit.

Curtis, a member of the committee, said he is not at liberty to say what might be revealed.

"But I do believe it will be a series of matters that will command as much attention as the disclosures about income taxes," he declared.

Legion Meeting

post flag sale was progressing and that, on request of the Sesqui committee, Ohio state flags also were being made available.

EDDIE JONES was named chairman of the essay contest on Americanism to be conducted among the school pupils of the city and county. He said his first step would be to discuss the contest with the school authorities and work out some definite plans.

George Inskeep, the chairman of the Scout committee, reported that the Legion-sponsored troop was being reactivated and that the committee had decided definitely to keep the troop charter.

The meeting endorsed the "Gifts for Yanks Who Gave" program for brightening Christmas for the former fighting men now in VA hospitals.

Plans for a reception for Father Richard Connelly, pastor of St. Colman's Catholic Church here and the state chaplain for the American Legion and Forty and Eight were put in almost final form. The reception on Oct. 23 is for all veterans, regardless of organization affiliations. Upward of 1,000 are expected; at least that many invitations are to be sent out.

Plans for an Armistice Day celebration were discussed at length. The consensus was that is should be expanded with services by Legionnaires at schools, a ceremony on the Court House lawn and a gathering of Legionnaires at the Hall in the evening. Howard Fogle was named chairman of the committee to arrange it all.

With the stepping up of general activities, the Legion Hall is now to be kept open every evening and on Sunday afternoon. The past commanders of the post have agreed to take turns at taking charge.

The roll call for Thursday night's meeting showed another increase in attendance—it was called "one of the biggest turnouts in a long time."

New Football Stadium Here Now Gets Some Consideration

A new stadium, with lock-rooms as a part of it, on the north side of the Gardner Park football field today loomed as a hazy possibility after a meeting of the Boosters Club committee and the Washington G. H. High School Athletic Board.

It all came about rather unexpectedly when the need for more locker room space in the field house was mentioned casually. From there it developed into more serious discussion.

Although no definite action was taken, out of the discussion came a number of suggestions, including one that received considerable attention. It was that, since more seats are needed right now, it might be possible to start the stadium by putting up the concrete block piers first, with planks across them for seats, and then over a period of time complete it with permanent concrete seats and the locker rooms, equipped with showers, underneath.

The whole nebulous program contemplated the cooperation and help of the Boosters Club.

BRIGHTENING THE picture was the informal report of the Athletic Association's financial condition.

The board authorized the payment of bills amounting to $2,300 mostly for football uniforms and safety equipment.

Even after those bills are paid, it was brought out that there still would be a balance of around $2,500 in the treasury.

And, only about two weeks ago, the last $2,500 of the $6,000 debt for the $7,500 stadium on the south side of the field was paid off.

More than $9,300 has been taken in at the football games thus far this season, the report showed.

Four games of the schedule have been played and five remain, three of which are to be here. Of the total, the report disclosed, $4,680 was taken in at the gate at the three home games and from the guarantee for the game played at Xenia; $270 came from the program concession and $4,441 came from the advance sale of season reserved seat tickets.

It is the home games with SCO League teams that bring in the money. Under the home-and-home game agreement with the league, the visiting team is paid only $30 and the host school keeps the rest.

The following year, when its team is the visitor, the school gets the $30 back. So, it all evens up over the span of years.

HOME-AND-HOME game agreements with non-league are similar, but usually the reciprocal guarantees run a little higher.

Teams which come here with no return game agreement are paid as high as $350, but the payments vary considerably, depending on the distance traveled. Monroe and Dayton Kiser are in that class.

Bexley, Linden-McKinley and Xenia are non-league schools but they play with a home-and-home agreement and consequently the guarantee is smaller—and it will come back next year in a like amount.

Indications were that, with five more games to play, the football ason would be finished with a at balance in the bank.

But, it was brought out, that the ills for reconditioning the uniforms lone could run as high as $1,000.

Needs for carrying on the basketball and track program, and possibly baseball, will put a dent into whatever is left.

However, indications are that the sports program this year will be well within its own income and leave something over.

THE ATHLETIC BOARD also authorized the purchase of a Bell & Howell motion picture projector for showing films of the games to the squad. The cost was estimated at around $285. A borrowed projector has been used in the past.

The board discussed a revision of the system of making awards for athletic participation. There was no indication that the traditional awarding of letters to the athletes who earned them would be abandoned, but consideration is being given to a plan for presenting deserving athletes more permanent mementoes, such as balls, medals or trophies. The coaching staff is to make a study of the possibilities and report at the board's next meeting.

At the suggestion of the coaches, plans are to be made to have a "Band Night" when Circleville's Tigers play here in the last game of the season. This is a tribute to the marching band that has contributed so much to the overall football extravaganza.

THE BOOSTERS CLUB committee, which met with the Athletic Board at this regular meeting, gave assurance that it had "no disposition to usurp any powers or prerogatives" as it outlined its purposes for the board.

The committee told the board the club was anxious and eager to help on the high school athletic program by working in cooperation with school authorities.

Appreciation also was expressed to the board and the coaching staff for helping make the club's weekly meetings interesting through the showing of motion pictures of games and chalk talks by the coaches.

The committee told the board it hoped to stimulate interest and enthusiasm for sports that would carry through basketball, baseball and track.

The Athletic Board was asked to "call on the Boosters Club anytime for anything."

The committee also told the board that it had authorized the purchase of a "whirl bath" for treatment of injured athletes.

On the Boosters Club committee were Ray R. Maddox, Charles A.

Fab, Don Gibson, and Paul Pennington, the club president, who went in the place of Robert A. Craig, who was out of the city.

During the more or less informal discussion, it was brought out that the high school would try to work out some plan for the advance sale of tickets here for both home and out-of-town games.

"What Would Grandpa Do If Alive Today?"

Not many people favor the idea of "going back to the good old days" in the rush of modern life, nor do they advocate such a return.

Now and then, however, something is said or printed which should make most of us wonder if a lot of people, particularly those now engaged in running our federal government, wouldn't profit by adhering to the principles which some of the "old timers" staunchly stood for.

In an editorial in the McComb, Mississippi, Enterprise-Journal, a paper which declares it is Independent Democrat in policy, that publication in a Democratic state in the "deep South", statements were made which ought to set a good many people to thinking.

In a half-humorous vein, this newspaper had the following to say in an editorial headed "What Would Grandpa Do If He Were Alive Today?" Here it is:

"Grandpa was a Democrat. He and his cronies were all Democrats. This editorial refers to the average Mississippi grandpa of yesteryears. Grandpa and his buddies created the Democratic Party. Grandpa fought for the Democratic Party, and of course, the Democratic Party fought for him. He believed in the Jeffersonian type of Democracy.

"Grandpa had certain principles which he upheld. The Democratic Party which he established represented these principles. Grandpa said that the government was the servant of the people and by gad, Grandpa insisted that the people and not Washington give the orders.

"If Grandpa were alive today he would be a fighting man. He would be oiling up his old trusty. If he were here today and picked up a newspaper and read on the front page that a Democratic candidate was in favor of an anti-segregation law, well, that would have just gotten Grandpa ready for an argument. And if he happened to be here today and heard of the corruption in Washington he would do a lot more than just blow his top. Grandpa would be busy right now trying to clean up and clean out the mess in Washington.

"Grandpa had a great respect for his family doctor. If he were here today, he would be mightily impatient with all of this talk about socialized medicine. Grandpa would be busy making war on the five percenters, the milk coaters, the deep freeze recipients. Old Grandpa would simply refuse to accept these things lying down. He wasn't that kind of a Democrat. Grandpa was the kind of a Democrat who upheld clean government. He didn't like the idea of politicians acting as though they owned the government and the people.

"Now old Grandpa was a frugal man. He believed in thrift and he always tried to save a little for a rainy day. He was the kind of a Democrat who insisted that this idea of thrift and economy and decency characterize his government. If Grandpa were here today and learned about our 262 billion dollar debt, and deficit spending, old Grandpa would say a thing or two and people wouldn't accuse him of double-talking either. Grandpa was straightforward with his politics.

"If Grandpa were alive today he would say, 'I helped make the Democratic Party. And I didn't make it along the lines that it is being run today.' Then he would start throwing out the bums.

"Grandpa didn't have much respect for political bosses. Grandpa and others like him bossed the Democratic Party and if he were here today he would let the bosses know he is the boss. Things would surely be popping if old Grandpa were here with his high principles of Democratic behavior.

"If he were here today and someone said that Washington was giving the orders, he would say, 'I'm not taking orders. This is our Democratic Party and the people give the orders. We don't take them.' That old gent loved the Constitution and if alive today he would be going up and down the state of Mississippi demanding respect for this bulwark of freedom.

"Don't sell Grandpa short. He was a man of principle. The Democratic Party was made to suit his ideals. Grandpa would not tolerate the idea of re-shaping his party to fit the sham and make-believe of a lot of radical pressure groups.

"One thing is certain. If Grandpa could be here in Mississippi on election day he would whale the tar out of a lot of his sons and daughters if he found them 'going fishing.' Grandpa would say, 'What's all this talk about going fishing? Haven't you got the guts to uphold decency in government? Is this the kind of kids I have brought up?' About this time Grandpa would start in breaking fishing poles over his knee. Don't kid yourself about old Grandpappy. He was a Democrat true and blue but he was a Democrat true and blue because the Democratic Party represented his finest conception of government."

Clinging Vine, Chapter Two

NEW YORK—(P)—I never said women ought to get up and give their seats to men in a bus, or tip their hats in an elevator whenever a man enters.

These womanly gestures of chivalry toward the new weaker sex certainly wouldn't be inappropriate today, but I have set up no cry for them.

How do such ideas get around anyway? All I did was to point out in a recent essay the obvious fact that as a result of the emancipation of women the clinging vine wife has been replaced by the clinging vine husband.

He just changes places with her. She steers the family bus, spends the money and spansks the kids. He merely sits on the fence, umpires her errors and tells her fondly, "Gee, honey, I'm a lucky man to have a girl like you to lean on. How did you pick me out of all the men in the world? I'm not really so much to look at."

Far from opposing this trend, I said it was a fine thing. Everyone now knows that women are physically more durable, emotionally more stable (I must have read that somewhere), and far tougher-minded than men. Since they now have the freedom to use this greater strength, it is only natural that they should take over the job of running this troubled world. Men thus can relax into the soft clinging vine role their sex plays so often in the vast realm of nature.

Who ever heard of a king bee in a hive? Man is a shy dream-drone at heart, and the present era of stalwart womanhood at last gives him the strong shoulder he needs to rest his head on.

In putting down these thoughts I intended only to pay tribute to the woman of the future—a confident Hercules figure striding the earth in triumph, one who, like the lady spider, takes the mere male as a luxury and a treat, not a necessity.

But the more a man praises a woman the more she regards him with suspicion. My mail from indignant women has been so heated it almost has to be handled with tongs. A few scorching examples:

"Your mother must have dropped you on your head as a child."

"You... you (censored)."

"Wh... do you hate women, you coward?"

"No real woman wants a clinging vine husband."

"If you were my clinging vine husband, I'd pull all your pretty little leaves off—but fast."

"The trouble with all you men is you're jealous—you can't stand competition."

By Hal Boyle

On the other hand, a sensible, elderly widow wrote:

"I read your ad for a clinging vine husband. Where can I get one? Any husband is better than none."

In answer, ladies, I would like to say this: I didn't invent the clinging vine husband. You did.

Many modern women selfishly have tried to turn the equal rights movement into a one-way lane. But it is a two-way street. They handle a man's paycheck, beat him to his favorite barstool, and when he goes to the ballpark to root for his team he is answered with a soprano boo. They desperately insist on being accorded all their ancient courtesies at the same time they grab for all the privileges of the new freedom.

But life just ain't that rewarding. If women crowd a man out of his world, he has only one world to turn to—their old world. He shrivels into the twinning vine. I know a fellow who has turned to making quilts as a hobby because, as he says, "It's the only thing I know of that women aren't trying to beat a man at."

Come right down to it, it would be nice to have women tip their hats to you. I'm tired of showing my bald spot, and a little token of respect from their sex these days wouldn't do any man harm.

Government and Secret Agencies

The Central Intelligence Agency, to be effective, must be a secret, secure organization. It is the agency which gathers information and data on political and military matters. In effect, CIA is a combined espionage and counter-espionage organization, representing Army, Navy, Air Force and the State Department.

There are differences of opinion in all countries as to how best to operate such an organization. Involved is the best overt and covert procedure for gathering data on a world-wide basis and the competence of those who evaluate the data. Usually, the covert agencies are separated from the overt. Similarly, it is usual to maintain numerous agencies for gathering data and one agency for evaluating data. In our country, everything is housed in the CIA, which some experts say is sound, while others contend that when everything is concentrated under one roof, the peril is that policy may influence the gathering and evaluation of data. That would be unfortunate.

General Walter Bedell Smith heads the CIA and is generally regarded as an able man. His statement, off-the-cuff, that all security agencies, including his own, have been infiltrated by Communists, is frightening. It is often practice in intelligence organizations to use enemy personnel to gather data. The "double spy" is not unusual; he sells to both sides. A competent evaluator would know how to appraise such data.

Therefore the evaluators are of the greatest importance. If any enemy should get a job as an evaluator, he could wreck our policy and its implementation by eliminating useful data and distorting all data. Alger Hiss was in a position to do that in the State Department.

Therefore, General Smith's testimony on the subject cannot be taken lightly. He is an important official, a man of high integrity, and what he says on such a subject does matter. His off-the-cuff reaction to a question is even more significant than a formal statement. The CIA cannot be made a political football without destroying its usefulness, but no agency of government may be permitted to be sacrosanct and not subject to congressional scrutiny with due regard to national security.

It has been the policy of the Truman administration to employ means for secrecy unusual among a free people. The worst step in this direction was executive order 9835, issued March 21, 1947. By this order, executive officers of the government were instructed to withhold information from congressional committees and to place all executive agencies under censorship. This order, together with executive order 10290, September 24, 1951, has been employed to protect subversive as well as corrupt officials. John P. Davies, a high State Department official, who recommended

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

We frequently read news items about people taking an overdose of sleeping pills, either through accident or an attempt at suicide. Often these pills contain one of the barbiturate drugs, which are in common use, but are also very treacherous.

If there is the least suspicion that an unconscious person has taken barbiturates, he should be rushed to a hospital at once.

Control Tighter

Until recently there was little control over the sale of barbiturates, and people could buy them anywhere. This control is now somewhat tighter, as the drugs have been proven so dangerous. They are also very habit-forming, and their continued use can lead to a serious form of drug addiction.

The first step in the control of barbiturate poisoning is there-such persons as Agnes Smedley, Benjamin K. Schwartz, Edgar Snow, Anna Louise Strong and others to the CIA, claimed the right to withhold data from the McCarran committee on grounds of security, where obviously security was in no manner involved.

It is dangerous for this country when the term "security" is used as a cover-up by errant officials. When national security is actually involved, all should stand by the country and even the administration. When the word, "security," is cheapened and abused, when it is employed falsely, the danger is that the term will lose its specific meaning and become synonymous with alibi. That danger is imminent.

President Roosevelt was often careless in his statements, as for instance, when after the Atlantic conference he stated that no new commitments had been made between himself and Winston Churchill; it was subsequently established that new commitments had been made. Senator Ferguson has stated that even in the Pearl Harbor investigation facts were withheld. He said:

"I shall never forget the experience nor the road blocks that were put in our way. Hearings were held for 70 days and a record of 10 million words was accumulated, but from beginning to end vital documents were withheld, crucial witnesses declined to appear, and, under pressure, other witnesses altered their testimony—everywhere secrecy and suppression."

When secrecy is used to cloak failure, when its object is to evade the proper scrutiny by the people into their own affairs, when high officials say what only too soon turns out to be untrue and use the word, security, to deceive—then faith in the administration is lost by the people. It can be worse, because faith in our system of government can be weakened.

Lions Reserves Win 27-12 From Circleville's Tiger Cubs

Running Attack By WHS Boys Most Effective

The WHS Lion Reserves today had their first victory in a football game with an SCO League school written into the records and were feeling pretty good about it.

They knocked off the Reserve team from Circleville, 27 to 12, at Gardner Park here Thursday afternoon.

Previously they had taken a setback in a game-like scrimmage against the Varsity at Frankfort and then come back to beat a half-Varsity half-Reserve team at Mt Sterling.

In their game with the Circleville Reserves here, the Tiger club scored in the opening period when Joe Hill, a brother of Circleville's Sandy Hill, star of four years ago for the Tigers. He smacked right through the middle from about 10 yards out.

But the Lion Reserves came right back to even it up when Roger Mickie went off tackle for 25 yards and the score.

THE WHS RESERVES took a 13-6 lead in the second period when Mickey Milstead went through the middle from about 10 yards out.

Circleville, coming back from the intermission with a never-say-die spirit, tallied again in the third period, but a 51 yard punt by the shifty, fleet-footed Mickie put the WHS boys in front and they were never headed.

Mickie's touchdown dash was one of the most spectacular plays of the game. He circled his own left end behind good blocking by his mates and, once in the clear, he just outran the Tiger Cubs.

The last WHS score came in the fourth period on a pass from Ronnie Meyer to Mickie.

The home boys made good three of their extra point attempts on two passes from Meyer to R. S. Campbell and a place kick by Sam Marting.

While the WHS blocking was effective and the play of the linemen held the Circleville running attack in check, the Lion Reserves had a trouble stopping the Circleville aerials.

The WHS squad was:

Ends—Fred Belles, Russ Campbell and Roger Whitley.

Tackles—John Sommers, Dick Anders, Jim Newland, Russ Ober-schlake and Don Clay.

Guards—Jim Cline, Clark Foster, Jim Newbery, H. U. Swayne, Bob Dunton and Jim Cunningham.

Quarterback—Ron Meyer and Fred Cahall.

Halfbacks—Mickey Milstead, Roger Mickie, Jerry Speakman, Frank Kingery, Tony Perrone and Dick Benson.

Fullback—Sam Marting, John Sexton and Dan Schlichter.

Fight Results

Thursday Night

AKRON—Rocky Jones, 179, Chester, Pa., outpointed Roland Lasterza, 190, New York, 10.

NEW YORK—Joey Klein, 148½, New York, outpointed Pat Manzi, 145, Syracuse, 8.

MILAN, Italy—Ray Famechon, France, knocked out Nello Barbadoro, Italy, 4. (For European featherweight title).

U. S. Controls Only Half Of Boxing Crowns

NBAAYS American Heavyweights On Top With 4 Of 8 Ring Titles

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The National Boxing Association Friday observed that only four of the eight world champions are from the United States.

And it pointed that the way things are going it isn't likely that the U. S. will improve its position.

The observation came in a news release accompanying the NBA's leading boxers.

Among the big boys this country is doing OK.

Heavyweight champion: Rocky Marciano. His No. 1 challenger: Jersey Joe Walcott, followed by Rex Layne and Ezzard Charles.

The top eight heavyweights listed by the NBA are from the U. S. Not until you reach the name of Johnny Williams, who gets an "honorable mention" from the NBA, do you find a foreigner. He's from England.

THE SAME situation prevails among the light heavies. Joey Maxim is the champ with Archie Moore and Harry Matthews the logical contenders.

Again, the eight top men are from the U. S. This time it's Yolande Pompee, from Trinidad, who finally breaks the monopoly.

But starting with the middleweights, and working down the weight scale, the situation changes rapidly.

Ray Robinson is the middleweight champion, but right below him is the man who once beat him and briefly held his title, Randy Turpin of England.

Kid Gavilan of Cuba is the welterweight king, Lauro Salas of Mexico rules the lightweights, Vic Towel of South Africa is champion of the bantamweights, and little Yoshio Shirai, Japan's first world boxing champion, tops the flyweights.

Sandy Saddler breaks this hold the foreigners have on the lighter weights, being the featherweight champ. But the NBA rates his No. 1 challenger as Ray Famechon of France.

Araujo Favorite In Brown Match

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(P)—George Araujo, the No. 3 contender for the lightweight championship, tangles with Joey Brown of New Orleans here Friday night in a 10-round bout.

For Brown, the sixth - ranking contender for Lauro Salas' lightweight title, it will be his New York debut. Araujo will be the 6.5 favorite for the bout which will be televised over NBC starting at 10 p. m.

Eleven of the contests are against out-of-state opponents. For the infant season the Buckeye clubs have won 17, lost 12 and tied two in interstate play.

4 Top Browns Out Of Tilt With Giants

CLEVELAND, Oct. 10.—(P)—"This isn't the usual cry job," said Coach Paul Brown, and the man sounded genuinely worried over how he could field a Cleveland team against the New York Giants here Sunday.

"We're in the poorest shape we've ever been," Brown said Thursday night.

Brown said he doesn't expect these four regulars to play Sunday.

Halfback Ken Carpenter, the big gun in the running attack that dumped the champion Los Angeles Rams here two weeks ago. End Dante Lavelli, one of the league's best pass-catchers. Fullback Harry Jagade, a valuable defensive plug in the soft spot left by veteran Tony Adamie who retired this year.

Tackle Derrell Palmer, whose 235 pounds have been assigned regularly to bulwark the left side of the line on defense.

All four men have leg injuries and haven't been able to work out this week.

ZONING ORDINANCE

HILLSBORO — A city zoning ordinance has been adopted by council by a 4 to 3 vote. Action had been delayed until maps were completed.

Deed Records To Be Preserved On Microfilm

Precautions Taken By County In Case Original Destroyed

All deed records in Fayette County are to be microfilmed, starting Monday morning. Thus, the record will be preserved if the originals should be destroyed by fire or other means.

Work of microfilming the deed books in the recorder's office will be done by the Microfilm Corp., 1051 Power Avenue, Cleveland, at a cost of about $1,300.

The cost runs 1 1/2 cents per page. The job is to be done on a 35 mm non-inflammable film approved by the Bureau of Standards, the acetate base film has permanence of at least 1,000 years, according to the company.

Arrangements were made with the company by the county commissioners. It is expected that other valuable county records also will be microfilmed.

Company representatives already have set up the microfilming equipment, which will be operated by Ned Stephenson.

IT WAS POINTED out that if deed records should be destroyed, every piece of property involved would have to go through formal court proceedings to reestablish ownership.

The possession of a deed would be the only favorable evidence. Many deeds have become destroyed, or lost, so that the county records are of vital importance.

It is now possible by modern photography to record these irreplaceable records on miniature film that can be stored safely away in a bank vault. Then in case of a court house disaster everybody would have a complete record of their property. These documents could be faithfully recreated by simply making full-size projection prints from the negative. Or this film can be conveniently read with a viewer.

Many counties are instituting this method of safety. Almost all government records at Washington are microfilmed; as the national authorities have found, it is the answer to the safety problem, ready reference, and the need of recapturing over-crowded space.

Rep. Virgil Perrill Home from Hospital

Rep. Virgil Perrill has returned to his home here after undergoing treatment by a specialist in Columbus for an eye injury for the last two weeks.

A nail, being driven in a board by a carpenter, flew up and hit him in the left eye on Sept. 27. He was inspecting some work being done on the farm just west of here on the Leesburg pike which he manages for his aunt, Mrs. Jennie Shoop, when the accident occurred.

He was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital for the first stages of treatment and then moved into a Columbus hotel from where he could go less than two blocks every day to see the specialist.

Now that the treatments are to be less frequent, Rep. Perrill has come home. He plans to go back and forth to see the doctor now. He said it was still too early to know whether the injury would permanently affect his sight or to what degree.

A candidate for reelection to his seat in the lower house of the state Legislature, Rep. Perrill at least has no worries about his campaign—he has no Democratic opposition.

Holy Name Rally Is To Be Held Sunday

Members of St. Colman's Catholic Church will go to Somerset Sunday to attend the rally of the Columbus Diocesan Holy Name Union, an auspicious event held annually.

The meeting will open at 3 P. M. in the church where the first Catholic Church in Ohio was established.

A parade, to precede the religious ceremonies, will be formed by members of Holy Name societies from all the parishes in Columbus and the 23 counties that comprise the diocese, and will be reviewed by the Most Rev. Michael J. Ready, D.D., bishop of Columbus. It will be led by the color guard of Catholic War Veterans and directed in formation and route of march by the 166th Regimental Combat Team of the Ohio National Guard.

Also featured in the procession will be Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus from points throughout the diocese; military cadets of St. Aloysius Academy, New Lexington, Ohio, and the uniformed Knights of St. John of Columbus. High school students will march with their respective parish units and the Diocesan Grade Schools. Band will furnish music, under the direction of Leo Hall.

Solemn Pontifical Benediction, following public recitation of the Rosary and renewal of the Holy Name Pledge, will be celebrated.

Sheriff Probing Acts Of Vandalism

Sheriff Orland Hays is investigating several acts of vandalism in the county, apparently committed under the guise of Halloween.

A number of shocks of corn have been burned, road signs removed or damaged and other depredations committed by lawless persons roaming the county at night.

Prompt arrest and prosecution was promised by the sheriff if the vandals are apprehended.

Free-for-all Stake Won By Rose Song

Rose Song, consistent mare owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Rhoads of Washington C. H., won the $10,000 Watkins stake for free-for-all trotters at Grandview Raceway in Cleveland this week to run her earnings for the four years she has been racing to $50,531.38.

Although Rose Song won the first dash with comparative ease in 2:06.3, she came back to duplicate the victory in 2:08 in a second heat which was raced by consent of the horsemen at the request of the management to provide an added attraction for the crowd.

Following Rose Song to the wire were Silver Faith, Freeman Hanover, Call Up, Clever M and Doyle Hanover.

Rose Song, the favorite, paid $3.40, 2.60 and 2.80.

Rhoads said Rose Song is in top condition now and that "she just wants to race."

He is considering shipping her back east to race at Yonkers in New York until the end of season.

She went a mile against time at the Lexington Trots in 2:01.2.

Bus Driver Is Held Not Guilty

Two Other Cases Are Postponed

Two drunken driving cases, which were to have been tried before Judge R. L. Brubaker and a jury Thursday, were carried over for another week upon application of W. W. Hill, who represented the two men, William Hurliss and Emil B. Long.

The case of Alton Nowlin, Greyhound bus driver charged with speeding, was tried before Judge Brubaker and a jury. He was found not guilty after the jury had considered the case for 30 minutes.

Charles Hire represented the Greyhound Bus Co. and William Junk represented the city.

R. R. Sheline, state patrolman who made the arrest, testified that he clocked the bus in excess of 70 miles per hour. Company employees testified that the bus motor had a governor on it limiting the speed to a little more than 56 miles per hour.

Several persons who were passengers on the bus testified that the bus was not speeding.

The jury in the case was composed of W. R. Cory, Mrs. Velda Roe, C. L. Schmidt, J. A. Brown, H. W. Herdman, Sheldon Grubbs, Lynn Smith, Mrs. Marian Gage, Mrs. Marie R. Craig, John E. Bailey and J. C. Kibler.

Warning Is Given On Burning Leaves

Complaints have been made about the promiscuous burning of leaves in the city, without regard to the 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. hours fixed by the health department.

A number of persons have been burning leaves after 4 P. M. with the result that the smoke settles over a sizeable neighborhood and causes much annoyance.

Police Chief Vaiden Long stated Friday the persons who fail to observe the health board order face prosecution, and wants information where violations occur.

FUNDS SHORT

CIRCLEVILLE—The city's general fund is $2,450, which is below the comfortable mark. Real estate taxes expected soon should boost the funds materially, it was pointed out.

Catholic Convention Is Held in Columbus

Miss Agnes Kerrigan and Mrs. Thomas Anderson of Columbus were in attendance at the 7th annual convention of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women which convened in the Desher-Wallick Hotel in Columbus on Thursday.

At the same time and place was celebrated the National Laywomen's Retreat Conference—the fourth in the nation and the first to be held in Ohio. It developed the theme "You are the Light of the World." This regional national group added to the outpouring of the six dioceses in the state. The Columbus diocese alone includes 84 parishes with more than 1,000 women in 23 counties who are enrolled in the lay apostolate.

The conference opened at 9 A. M. with a Pontifical High Mass celebrated by Bishop Michael J. Ready in Saint Joseph's Cathedral, with an assisting priest, two assisting deacons and nine acolytes. Following the Solemn Mass there was registration and a noon luncheon at the Desher-Wallick.

In the afternoon there were speakers at a series of conducted workshops which included: Religious Activities; Catholic Charities; PTA Associations; Public Relations; Duties of Officers and Adult Education.

An elaborate banquet was held in the main ballroom of the hotel at 7 P. M.

Inspiration was at high tide when the after-dinner speaker, Dr. James M. O'Neill, noted educator, lecturer, and best-seller author, gave an address on "Catholicism and Freedom" which was the topic developed in his book, Dr. O'Neill's new book sold 25,000 copies within two months after publication.

FAVORS PAYROLL TAX

WILMINGTON—Mayor Malcolm K. Arthur, pointing to the urgent need of more funds for operating the city, has gone on record for an income tax and asked council-to cut his salary to $100 per year in the interests of economy, and to cut salaries of councilmen who are in the habit of being absent much of the time.
